Product Description

A toy claw machine, also known as a mini claw machine or toy grabber machine, is a smaller version of the arcade claw machines designed specifically for home use or for children. These machines mimic the experience of the larger arcade versions but are typically smaller in size and less powerful.

Toy claw machines work in a similar way to their larger counterparts. They usually have a clear plastic dome or window that allows players to see the prizes inside. Players insert a token or coin, and then they use the joystick or controls to manipulate a mechanical claw to try and grab a prize. The claw is typically operated by pressing a button or using the joystick to control its movement horizontally and vertically. Once the player is satisfied with the positioning of the claw, they press a button to make it descend and attempt to grab a prize.
